

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TARRYTOWN HOUSE ESTATE & CONFERENCE CENTER EARNS HIGH MARKS FROM CLIENTS

TARRYTOWN, NY —February 3, 2008 –Tarrytown House Estate & Conference Center, located in the heart of New York’s Westchester County, was honored at Destination Hotels & Resorts (DH&R) annual sales meeting with the “Outstanding Customer Focus Award - Most Likely to Return.” The property, which was the nation’s first executive conference center, was applauded for receiving the highest scores on DH&R’s customer surveys.

The property was converted to a conference center in 1964 and has consistently earned industry service recognition awards, with its customers returning again and again.

Perfect for business and leisure, Tarrytown House blends historical charm with modern conveniences to offer the best in lodging and amenities. The tastefully appointed facilities, residing on 26-acres overlooking the Hudson River Valley, feature impressive 19th-century architecture, including that of the King and Biddle Mansions, a carriage house and cottage, as well as a contemporary atrium-style building that houses conference facilities and guest rooms.

Tarrytown House Estate and Conference Center is the perfect place to experience the traditional pleasures of the majestic Hudson Valley, while enjoying gracious accommodations, gardens and resort amenities, all within an easy ride of New York City. With 212 guest rooms, 30,000 square feet of IACC-certified meeting space an array of recreational options, the property is ideally suited for training, executive treatments and board meetings.
